Whats wrong with my code? A: You cannot have ng-include and ng-repeat together. This is the same as: That will cause the module to repeat itself as a child of the div, but the attribute ng-include will not have a proper value by the time it's rendered. So either put a div in the template and use ng-include on the controller, or put the include template into the module itself. Men's Violence and Male Homicide (2004).
